

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A bicycle crank includes a connection end for being connected to an axle of bottom bracket and a remote end for being connected to a pedal. The remote end extends off from a longitudinal axis of the crank. A first side 5 of the crank has a thick and rounded configuration and a second side has a narrow configuration.